

Head Injury Advice

Please take the patient to the hospital immediately under the following circumstances:

1. Increasing drowsiness, confusion or loss of consciousness
2. Nausea and vomiting
3. Severe headache or dizziness
4. Limb weakness or paralysis
5. Convulsion
6. Blood or clear fluid coming out of ears or nose

During the first twelve hours after the injury, awaken the patient every two hours to make sure that he/she is still conscious.
